

This is like communism, forcing people to watch what you want them to watch, we have had far too much B.S. in the media, if you are going to fine CBS for showing a boob on television, something that most countries don't even consider offensive, and teaching our children to feel ashamed of their bodies, then YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST!! teach them that lying deliberately, and manipulating, and contorting the truth is something that they should be MORE ashamed of, and every channel that runs that B.S. should also be fined!

If you cannot effectively handle this situation, then the FCC becomes a joke, that is just as much responsible for the problems in the world, as the B.S. that is being aired, and you are rendered ineffective and laughable! Do your job justly, or get the hell out of people's way! No more lies on TV. Dan Rather should have been fined, Bill O' Riley should be fined! George W. Bush, and his clan, should all be fined! What kind of messages are you making! Pathetic nonsense!
